

OBLIVIOUS TO ABUSE, ROOSEVELT ON TRIP

Former President Quits London for Week-End In the Country.

LABORITES DECLARE SPEECH "INSPIRED"

G. Bernard Shaw Insists That Time Has Come for England to Take Care of America.

LONDON, June 3.—Apparently oblivious of the storm which he raised as the result of his Guildhall speech on Egypt, Theodore Roosevelt today quit London for the week-end, going to the Buckinghamshire country place, Chequers Court, of Arthur Lee, where the former President spent a part of the last week-end.

Mr. Roosevelt, speaking as an American citizen, gave the well wishes of his compatriots to Capt. Robert F. Scott, leader of the British Antarctic expedition about to leave England. Captain Scott was one of the guests at Chequers Court, the others including John Burns, the labor cabinet member, and Sir Harry Johnston, the African authority.

England appears today to have got her second wind after Mr. Roosevelt made the country gasp with his criticism of British rule in Egypt and imperialistic strictures at the Guildhall. The criticism of Kier Hardie's paper, the Labor Leader, and the comments of Bernard Shaw, the writer, are regarded as the most significant, expressing the attitude of British radicals toward the former President.

Cartoonists' Opportunity.
The cartoonists are making the most of the Guildhall speech, the most pertinent cartoon being that of Sir F. C. Gould in the Westminster Gazette, depicting Roosevelt as a Roman charioteer driving the American eagle and the British lion tandem.

The Pall Mall Gazette cartoon shows Roosevelt as a doctor plugging a finger on the weak spot, labeled "Sentimentality," of his patient, John Bull, who wears a fez.

The chief topic in political circles today was the charge made by the Labor Leader that the Roosevelt speech was inspired.

Calling the address "worse than impertinence," the paper has outlined its allegation thus:

"It is known that in financial circles there is a movement on foot to secure

FOURTH OF JULY FUND STILL FAR FROM ENOUGH

Committee Hampered In Closing Contracts for Fireworks By Lack of Money, and Another Appeal Is Made to Public for Assistance.

With the approach of the Fourth of July, the joint committee of the Board of Trade and Chamber of Commerce is expressing anxiety at the failure of the public to respond to the appeals for contributions for the public celebration. Only a month remains for the completion of the plans for the holiday.

In the meantime the committee, and especially the fireworks committee, of which J. Fred Kelly is chairman, is handicapped by a lack of funds.

The contributions to date amount to only $1,500. The plans of the committee involve an expenditure of at least $2,000. Last year no trouble was experienced in raising the required amount, and the success of that celebration was considered a guarantee for future events.

Members of the committee say they are unable to understand the apparent lack of interest on the part of citizens, and it is hoped that from now on the subscriptions will increase.

Subscriptions of a dollar or even less will be gratefully received, as it is the desire of the committee that the public contribute generally to the celebration instead of leaving the expense to be borne by comparatively few public spirited citizens.

A meeting of the executive committee of the fireworks committee will be held tomorrow, Hugh W. Kelly, of Trenton, N. J., is here in the interest of a fireworks company of that city, and has presented to the committee a program, which, it is said, will excel and display ever offered in Washington.

mental man that he made the Guildhall speech.

Before Mr. Roosevelt left London he was received by the Duke of Connaught, brother of the late King, at Clarence House. After spending some time with the duke the former President visited Joseph Chamberlain, former premier, at Prince's Gardens.

ROOSEVELT SENDS MESSAGE TO KING

LONDON, June 3.—King George today celebrated his first birthday as England's ruler. He is forty-five years old. All the royalties in London paid formal visits to the King and Queen at Marlborough House and the royal salute was fired in St. James Park as well as at Windsor.

The King's birthday will be formally celebrated June 24, but hundreds of personal congratulatory messages were received today. Among those paying their respects thus was Theodore Roosevelt.

MEDALS FOR TRUANTS.

YORK, Pa., June 3.—Truant boys who had "made good" were given high praise today at the closing exercises of York's novel two-year-old "truant school," when gold and silver medals were awarded for excellence in manual training.

ALLEGED DYNAMITER MAKES CONFESSION

BALTIMORE, June 3.—The United States attorney for this district feels confident of convicting the six men charged with having conspired to dynamite the Mt. Clare shops and the Gay street bridge of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, December 31 last.

The attorney's hopes were raised yesterday, when one of the alleged dynamiters entered a plea of guilty. The other five men intend to fight for their liberty.

HONK-HONKED BY COW.

MARIETTA, Pa., June 3.—Leaving his automobile at the roadside while he fished in Chickies creek, M. E. Helfrich was summoned back by the "honk-honking" of its horn. A cow was chewing the horn's rubber bulb.
